TO GREATER BALTIMORE

The March Number Book of the Royal Blue A Souvenir of the Great Fire.
The entire March edition of the "Book of the Royal Blue," published by the Passenger department of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, has been issued as a memento of the disastrous fire of February 7th.

It is dedicated to the future greater Baltimore which will restore the seventy-five business blocks destroyed.

A short concise story of the fire is given, followed by some thirty views of the ruins before the walls were torn down. A full page map of the city shows the location of the burned district.

The magazine is issued as a matter of history, and will be preserved as such.
With very few exceptions the burned district now is a pile of broken bricks without any semblance of buildings.

A limited edition of the popular magazine has been issued and copies may be obtained on immediate application to D. B. Martin, Manager Passenger Traffic, Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, enclosing 10 cents in postage to include the cost of mailing.

ONLY $53.00 ROUND TRIP

A FAMOUS SOCIETY.

Where London's Famous Preachers and Teachers Gathered.

The closing decades of the last century comprehended the palmy period of a distinguished little society in London which might have been described as a club for the teachers and preachers of their age, secular or religious. Such indeed was the Metaphysical society.
Its organizing spirit had perhaps been James Knowles. If its most famous member were found in W. E. Gladstone its leading spirits, who took the most active part in its discussions, were Cardinal Manning and Richard Holt Hutton, the editor of the Spectator.
James Martineau, Matthew Arnold and William George Ward, the crewlike mathematical tutor of Balliol, as well as the poet Browning, may sometimes have been of the company, but the chief figures were those already mentioned.
In his earlier days Hutton, like so many reflective men of his day, was the disciple of F. D. Maurice. Tien among his associates were J. M. Ludlow and Thomas Hughes, the author of "Tom Brown's School Days." Afterward R. H. Hutton's mental master would have been recognized by him in his brother member of the Metaphysical society, James Martineau.

The great incidents in its proceedings at this time were the high speculative arguments wherein different sides were taken by teachers of their generation so mutually opposed and so individually distinguished as Manning and Martineau, upon very rare occasions, it may be, by Gladstone, Browning and, I rather think, once or twice by Tenny-son himself. The extraordinary magnetism exercised by Martineau over his personal following was perceptible in his manner with casual acquaintances.
As such, it was realized very many years ago by the present writer when, as an exceedingly young man fresh from college, he was concerned in preparing some examination questions, in which his venerable seniors, Maurice and Martineau, with one of two more, were to have a voice.—T. H. S. Escott in Chambers.

THE BEST ONES.

The best law—the Golden Rule.
The best education—self knowledge.
The best philosophy—a contented mind.
The best theology—a pure and benefi-cent life.

The best war—to war against one's weakness.

The best medicine—cheerfulness and temperance.

The best music—the laughter of an innocent child.

The best science—extracting sunshine from a cloudy day.

The best telegraphy—flashing a ray of sunshine into a gloomy heart.

The best biography—the life that writes clarity in the largest letters.

The best engineering—building a bridge of faith over the river of death.

The best navigation—steering clear of the lacerating rocks of personal contention.

The best mathematics—that which doubles the most joys and divides the most sorrows.

He Was Awful Homely.

One day while on a hunting expedition in the Alps Victor Emmanuel met an old woman gathering brambles. She inquired of the stranger whether it was true, as she had heard, that the king was in the neighborhood. If so, was there any chance of seeing him?
"Yes," said his majesty, "he is about.
Would you like to see him?"
The old woman declared that few sights would give her more pleasure.
"Well, mother, I am the king." She stared at him for a moment and broke into a grin.

"Get out with you, jester! Do you think a nice woman like the queen would marry a chap like you, with that hideous mug?"

The king was not offended. Perhaps the compliment to his wife mollified him. He gave the woman a pile of money, with which he was always free, and passed along.

Lightning Roasted Duck.

An extraordinary effect of lightning is reported from Lake Grandlieu, in the Nantes region. A violent tempest burst over the lake, with vivid lightning and thunder. A number of boats were on the lake, and while they were hurrying to bank there was a tremendous peal of thunder. Almost immediately there fell among the boats the dead bodies of a large flock of wild ducks, some of them roasted to a nice ty, and some charred to a cinder.
Roast duck cooked by lightning reads like a novelty, even in the freaks of meteorology. If it could only be adapted to the "quick lunch" system!

Didn't Want the Family.

He had at last summoned up sufficient courage to "ask papa," when, to his astonishment, the blustering parent demanded, "Are you capable of supporting a family, sir?"
"No, sir," he replied with great firmness. "My father tackled that job and has had his wife's family on his hands ever since. I only want your daughter, sir, not the family."

One Obstacle Only.

Scholar—Professor, your mnemonic system is wonderful, and I am sure that any one, after mastering the rules, can learn to remember anything. But I am handicapped by one difficultly. Professor—What is it?
Scholar—I can't remember the rules.—
Town and Country.

The Friends.

"I see you are wearing my old engagement ring."
"Yes; isn't it perfectly lovely to be engaged to Jack?"
"Yes, indeed! He's so deliciously serious about it, isn't he?"—Detroit Free Press.

His Practice.

Little Elmer—Papa, what do the letters "D. D." after a man's name mean?
Professor Broadhead—That he is a doctor who makes a practice of preaching, my son.—Town Topics.

A Newspaper Worth Reading.

The Pittsburg Times is a conservative careful newspaper for particular people.
Its statements of fact and comments on its are concise and correct. Its departments are in charge of experts, and its authority in all matters pertaining to the events of the world at large and of the community it represents more particularly is recognized. It has no Sunday edition, and its position in that regard in Pittsburg is as unique as its thorough reliability in every way.
Staunchly Republican in political policy it yet gives all the news of all parties.
Its moral tone is high, and churchmen of every creed find in its columns more news of their interests and work than in all its contemporaries combined.
Sports are given the prominence they deserve and no more. The news concerning them is bright, timely and adequate, for the work is done by a master. Theaters in The Times as in no other paper have the truth told about them and the plays they offer. No business considerations ever interfere with the publication of criticisms that really criticize in this department, too, the work is done by a master. Society and the affairs of women find careful and complete exposition on the page devoted to them. Industrial matters are accorded the prominence they merit in a Pittsburg paper, while the stock market is given the attention that has brought the Times into the front rank of financial authorities. Above all The Times is a model not only of brevity of statement but of dignified simplicity in its typographical appearance. It offends neither the eye nor the sensibilities.
Those things that are of importance are treated accordingly. Those that are unimportant are handled in keeping with their value. Each issue of The Times is a day's history of events the wide world round. Its price is one cent daily or $3.00 a year.

Nothing Equal to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for Bowel Complaints in Children.

Best Cough Medicine For Children.

When you buy a cough medicine for small children you want one in which you can place implicit confidence. You want one that not only relieves but cures. You want one that is unquestionably harmless. You want one that is pleasant to take. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets all of these conditions. There is nothing so good for the coughs and colds incident to childhood. It is also a certain preventative and cure for croup and there is no danger whatever from whooping cough when it is given. It has been used in many epidemics of that disease with perfect success. For sale by G. C. Stone, druggist.
